CTEI
CENTRE FOR TEACHING
EXCELLENCE & INCLUSION
Where Inclusion meets Excellence

Introduction

The Centre for Teaching Excellence & Inclusion (CTEI) was established by TEACH in June 2026 to strengthen inclusive teaching practices across higher education. Building on TEACH's experience of supporting 850+ Deaf and Hard of Hearing (DHH) learners, CTEI extends this expertise beyond TEACH's campuses, working with educators and institutions across India to build the knowledge and capacity needed for meaningful inclusion.

Since its launch, CTEI has reached 300+ educators across 9 institutions through capacity-building initiatives focused on inclusive pedagogy, accessibility, and effective support for DHH learners. For DHH learners, inclusion goes beyond access to a classroom. It depends on educators who are equipped to respond to diverse learning needs and institutions that are prepared to create environments where every learner can participate and thrive. CTEI works towards this by strengthening educator capacity and supporting institutions in embedding accessibility and inclusion into their teaching practices.
